

Philadelphia Extends the Annual Tax Filing and Payment Deadline This Year to April 17, 2012

The deadline of any city annual tax returns or payments customarily due on the 15th of April - Business Privilege Tax, Net Profits Tax, School Income Tax and Earnings Tax, annual reconciliation have been automatically extended to April 17, 2012. Note that the extension of the due date does not impact other monthly taxes due on the 15th of each month. The City allows this extension to make it easier for taxpayers by making the federal and the city taxes due on the same day.

This year the IRS is extending the federal income tax deadline to April 17, 2012. Taxpayers will have until Tuesday, April 17, 2012 to file their 2011 federal income tax returns and pay any tax due because Emancipation Day, a holiday observed in the District of Columbia, falls this year on Monday, April 16, 2011. By law, District of Columbia holidays impact tax deadlines in the same way that federal holidays do. Therefore, all taxpayers will have two extra days to file this year. Taxpayers requesting an extension will have until October 15, 2012 to file their 2011 tax returns.

For any questions or concerns regarding this article, please contact us at:

revenuetaxadvisors@phila.gov