

Initial Calendar of Public Engagement

In addition to the events listed above, and others that will be added in the coming days and weeks, Mayor Nutter will be visiting communities across the city to talk with Philadelphians about the challenges that we face, the common priorities that we hold, and to gather input for the FY10 Budget. The Managing Director, Deputy Mayors and Administration Officials will also be convening briefing sessions for stakeholders and citizens to review and discuss budget challenges and options in detail.

This unprecedented level of public engagement in the budget process is a demonstration of the Nutter Administration's commitment to dialogue, education, and moving forward together as one city.
