

Taishyna is a sweet 11-year old girl with beautiful red hair. She enjoys playing with her friends, drawing pictures and fashion. She likes school and is doing well academically.

Taishyna can be very loveable yet at the same time impulsive. She receives help with her speech because it is sometimes difficult for her to express herself, which can be frustrating. She continues to work on expressing herself in a positive manner.

Taishyna has bi-weekly sibling visits and needs a family that understands the effects of trauma in children. She will need intense and continued emotional and psychological support and her adoptive family should be able to be patient and provide unconditional love.
