- The only legal fireworks for sale or use in Philadelphia are sparklers
- Even though sparklers are legal, they can produce hot sparks and the temperature of a sparkler can reach 1,800 degrees F
- Children using sparklers must be supervised by adults.
- Children should be taught at an early age that all fireworks are dangerous.
- Children should be instructed never to pick up fireworks they find and to call an adult if they find fireworks.
- The Philadelphia Fire Department suggests that you leave fireworks in the hands of the professionals
