FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MEDIA ADVISORY

MAYOR NUTTER, CITY OF PHILADELPHIA TO HOST FIRST OF MAYORS' '08 ACTION FORUMS

Crime and Public Safety are Focus

On Wednesday, August 6, Philadelphia Mayor Michael Nutter and the City of Philadelphia will host Mayors and Chiefs of Police from cities across the country for the first in a series of Mayors' '08 Action Forums sponsored by the United States Conference of Mayors (USCM). This forum is designed to work on a series of recommendations to reduce crime and violence and increase public safety that will be presented to the next President of the United States during his first 100 days in office.

The City of Philadelphia was chosen to host this important event because of Mayor Nutter's and Police Commissioner Ramsey's comprehensive efforts to reduce crime and violence and to enhance the quality of life in all Philadelphia neighborhoods.

Mayors and Public Safety leaders are expected from cities including: Allentown, PA; Atlanta, GA; Boston, MA; Camden, NJ; Cleveland, OH; Los Angeles, CA; Louisville, KY; Miami, FL; Seattle, WA; Oakland, CA; San Francisco, CA; Mobile, AL and others.
