What features do you particularly like or dislike about each model?

Team	Like	Dislike
Amaze Design	Spatial choreography, triptych impact, looping video, lighting design, courtyard, multiple access routes, artifacts, non-competitive plan for Liberty Bell Center + President's House
Davis Buckley	Power of simple figures at crossing of threshold, pillars of truth, paving pattern, entrance speaks volumes, U.S. Census, glass walls/hidden deeds, executive abuse
EwingCole	Interaction – stories and images; visual/auditory impact excites visitors, promotes thought, views; presentation of two worlds (finally!!) – slaves' quarters/president's quarters, etc.
Howard+Revis	Wonderful introduction of concepts via exquisite sculpture, design and historic images; a graphic transmission of history, truth, aspiration, courage. NOTE*
Kelly/Maiello	Listening to dialogue in simulated setting stimulates interest/desire to explore; flow of presentation structurally engaging; theater

	informative with LED screen
--	-----------------------------	--

Additional comments: * Howard+Revis: In my opinion, "Slavery and Freedom Entwined" is an appropriate – theme/title... because

(1) Slavery in the U.S. existed prior to freedom or American concepts of "freedom"

(2) People of color (most) experienced slavery... then freedom.

Please reconsider the historic sequence of these conditions on this continent. (Thank you).

Re: Evaluation Process: proper and "fair" evaluation by "laypersons" requires (in my opinion):

- Ample time per design to "feel" and comprehend work (not 30 minutes).
 - Quiet atmosphere
 - Notebook, pencils with erasers to record details.

EwingCole		Cannot see what I'm looking at
Howard+Revis	Faceless figures on top, head down size, multitude, center top figure, looks like in an ocean	Nothing I dislike about
Kelly/Maiello		Too indefinite

Additional comments: As far as being models, Amaze Design, EwingCole and somewhat for Kelly/Maiello, all 3 did not show what monument would be like. I just love Howard+Revis and I hope it would be big enough to endure for many generations to come in Philadelphia's future. I appreciate being given this chance to try to choose for the monument. Thank you.

Howard+Revis		Slavery came before freedom in this country - how can it be entwined? **
Kelly/Maiello		What is the meaning of the house. What is the history of the Africans on the wallj?

Additional comments:  We struggled for our own freedom and we worked so hard for something that is/has been taken from us. We literally built this nation with our blood, sweat, and hard work. It may have been the President's house, but "we" maintained it.

As a young African American woman, this "project" is not teaching me anything about my history. I feel that it is a waste of money that could be used for something much more important.

The President's House design competition does not teach me anything on how African Americans played a vital role in history. We were more than "slaves," we built this nation and we still are building it. Nonetheless, how many African Americans are actually incorporating the "real message" of slavery to freedom in this project? [Regarding the title of the project -

The President's House: Freedom and Slavery in Making a New Nation] Freedom of who?
(slavery came before freedom).

All the displays are an insult to the descendants of our enslaved ancestors. It's not about the president's house, it's about the enslaved people that lived as animals, and served there. It wasn't a dance.

Additional comments: The models do not depict the true story. It makes it seem as if slavery was a wonderful institution. The designs are great structures, but the wording is unacceptable. They do not depict the struggle of my ancestors who were treated like animals. George Washington was a slave holder. The design is not acceptable.

Additional comments: I would love to see this site at Market Street in my home city where there is supposed to be brotherly love. There also could be an exhibit of African American struggles until now – innocent slain victims – to bring to the attention that we should stick together as opposed to falling astray. Entitled “Wake up city, wake up!”

Kelly/Maiello	I like that the model shows how free and enslaved people interacted and commemorates the resistance of the slaves.	I think visitors will need to spend more time in the exhibit than in some of the others in order to get a sense of it. I hope people will want to spend lots of time there, but this might be a drawback in cold or rainy weather.

What features do you particularly like or dislike about each model?

Team	Like	Dislike
Amaze Design		Dislike the structure. Feels too modern
Davis Buckley		Least impressive of the 5
EwingCole	Like the structure and the storytelling theme
Howard+Revis	I do like the sculptures.	Too sparse and not interactive
Kelly/Maiello	Dialogue theme and substance and the actual structure; interactive nature. I like that it has a more historic feel and isn't modern like the Liberty Bell structure.

What features do you particularly like or dislike about each model?

Team	Like	Dislike
Amaze Design	Detailed info about each of the nine enslaved people and media center	Role of chairs; tower seems unclear and not particularly powerful
Davis Buckley	Glass entrance	Hardly any information about anything specific!
EwingCole		Too much going on with voices – people will be overwhelmed.
Howard+Revis	Sculpture	Lacks physical outline of house
Kelly/Maiello	Physical recreation of house	Lacks specific info about slaves; nervous about voices

Additional comments: I believe the Amaze design has the most potential.
