How well does each model commemorate the lives of all the people who inhabited the President's House?

Team	Exceptionally well	Well	Adequately	Not well at all
Amaze Design			X
Davis Buckley	X
EwingCole		X
Howard+Revis	X
Kelly/Maiello		X

What features do you particularly like or dislike about each model?

Team	Like	Dislike
Amaze Design	Glazed walls	Roof over the buildings; too dark
Davis Buckley	Open layout	The paving for the house could be a different color and show slave quarters
EwingCole	Technology... will it work?	Structure fits with Liberty Bell
Howard+Revis	Open layout	Bronze sculpture is too literal to be powerful.
Kelly/Maiello	Detail and thought in the interpretation	Neo-colonial style doesn't fit

Additional comments: The Davis Buckley design works with the Liberty Bell Pavilion to pose the irony of slavery in this country on counterpoint with the Liberty Bell. The design leaves the site open and offers something for all mindsets (numbers, paving, and a suggestive doorway) to draw the public in and make a statement about our past.

Additional comments: Beautiful display, wonderful concepts. This will be a tremendous addition to the historic site. Thank you for all your efforts.

What features do you particularly like and/or dislike about each model?

Team	Like	Dislike
Amaze Design	Included Rohm and Haas building in model	Feels obtrusive
Davis Buckley	Sculptures; transparent	One sculpture is enough; too similar to Visitors Center; flat stone markers
EwingCole		Design distracts pavilion; looks like "house of mirrors" – (Boardwalk venue)
Howard+Revis	Sculpture	Placement of trees; flat materials only
Kelly/Maiello	References to doors and windows	Feels "flimsy"

- Additional comments: A. It's critical that all the people who inhabited the President's House are commemorated. Freedom and slavery should be given equal and elegant respect.
B. I've attached a picture of a structure whose transparency and compliment of materials "reflect" a suitable concept for this site. [Glass-enclosed pavilion at the entrance to Leinster House, home to the Republic of Ireland's parliament, the Houses of the Oireachtas.]
C. This project will complete the representation of all branches of government on the Mall. Too much "African-American" interpretive history.
D. Don't "wall-off" 6th Street.
E. Design to attract time for reflection.
F. Consider children – then and now.

Additional comments: This model intertwines the past with the present and recognizes present-day advocates who fought hard to bring it about. The slave recognition aspects are more prominent than all other models. They are positioned in such a way so as to pre-empt our notice of the House itself.

Additional comments: My biggest concern is the use of sound in an outdoor exhibit.
