

Traveling in Philadelphia

People move around in many different ways in Philadelphia. Signs, signals, and markings on the ground help people drive, walk, and bike safely in the city. Grab a grown up, grab a mask, and see if you can find 5 in a row!

B	I	N	G	O
 A SEPTA bus or trolley	 Someone walking or rolling	 Someone riding an adaptive bike	 Stop sign	 A blinking don't cross signal
 A yellow traffic light	 A crosswalk	 Bicycle rack	 A crossing signal	 Someone riding a bike
 Someone running	 A baby in a stroller	FREE SPACE	 A bike lane	 A ramp on the curb
 A truck	 A green traffic light	 A speed limit sign	 A red traffic light	 Someone waiting for a bus or trolley
 Speed cushion	 Someone driving	 A sidewalk	 Subway or regional rail station	 A don't cross signal