Overview of City of Philadelphia

With a workforce of over 30,000 people, and opportunities in more than 1,000 different job categories, the City of Philadelphia is the sixth largest city in the United States and one of the largest employers in Southeastern Pennsylvania. As an employer, the City of Philadelphia operates through the guiding principles of service, integrity, respect, accountability, collaboration, diversity and inclusion. Through these principles, we strive to effectively deliver services, to resolve the challenges facing our city, and to make Philadelphia a place where all of our residents have the opportunity to reach their potential.

Agency Description

Philadelphia Parks & Recreation (PPR) advances the prosperity of the city and the progress of her people through intentional and sustained stewardship of over 10,200 acres of public land and waterways as well as through hundreds of safe, stimulating recreation, environmental, and cultural centers. PPR promotes the well-being and growth of the City’s residents by connecting them to the natural world around them, to each other, and to fun, physical, and social opportunities. PPR is responsible for the upkeep of historically significant Philadelphia events and specialty venues, and works collaboratively with communities and organizations in leading capital projects and the introduction of inventive programming. ## Position Summary

The Recreation Specialty Instruction (RSI) will serve as a Communications Associate to assist with press event management, public relations strategies, and the development of digital content and media materials. The associate will work closely with both the digital communications manager and content manager, as well as other departmental employees, City agencies, community organizations, and nonprofit partners. Candidates should have a passion for Philadelphia, the ability to write for various contexts and audiences, and experience working in a fast-paced office with a variety of tasks and priorities. This is a writing-heavy opportunity that requires the ability to write extremely well on deadline.
