Overview of City of Philadelphia

With a workforce of over 30,000 people, and opportunities in more than 1,000 different job categories, the City of Philadelphia is the fifth largest city in the United States and one of the largest employers in Southeastern Pennsylvania. As an employer, the City of Philadelphia operates through the guiding principles of service, integrity, respect, accountability, collaboration, diversity and inclusion. Through these principles, we strive to effectively deliver services, to resolve the challenges facing our city, and to make Philadelphia a place where all of our residents have the opportunity to reach their potential.

Agency Description

Philadelphia Parks & Recreation (PPR) advances the prosperity of the city and the progress of her people through intentional and sustained stewardship of over 10,200 acres of public land and waterways as well as through hundreds of safe, stimulating recreation, environmental, and cultural centers. PPR promotes the well-being and growth of the City's residents by connecting them to the natural world around them, to each other, and to fun, physical, and social opportunities. PPR is responsible for the upkeep of historically significant Philadelphia events and specialty venues and works collaboratively with communities and organizations in leading capital projects and the introduction of inventive programming. Position Summary

The Recreation Specialty Instruction (RSI) will serve as a Sustainability, Recycling, and Compost Specialist supporting the department's sustainability strategies by assisting with waste reduction, recycling, composting, and other general sustainability initiatives. Reporting to the Sustainability Officer, this position will conduct research and collect, process, and present data for several initiatives. Focus initiatives include:

- Waste Diversion: Recycling and composting data collection, quality control, and reporting for PPR Rec Centers and facilities
- Sustainability Outreach and Education: Deliver trainings to PPR program staff and, when possible, program participants (youth) on proper recycling, composting, and food donation strategies

General Sustainability Initiatives: Support the department with other sustainability-related initiatives for topics such as energy, communications, and sustainable land care to promote cleaner and greener parks

The position is a combination of office and field-based activities. It is a blend of processing data and reports via electronic means and interacting with City staff and Parks and Rec users from the community. As such, an estimated 40% of this position must be performed in the field, while approximately 60% can be performed via computer. Each task and initiative this position informs is ultimately in support of the department and City's Sustainability goals.
