Long Term Strategic Plan

Fair lending is deeply rooted in Citi’s core principle of responsible finance and its Code of Conduct. This means that Citi:

- Complies with the letter and the spirit of the US fair lending laws that prohibit discrimination in all credit and housing related activities;
- Treats applicants and customers equally and does not differentiate on any prohibited basis;
- Provides equal access and opportunity for credit for applicants regardless of race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, marital status, familial status, receipt of public assistance, exercise of rights under the Consumer Credit Protection Act, and other factors unrelated to credit worthiness; and
- Works to maintain Citi’s reputation for fairness.

To reinforce Citi’s commitment to fair lending, Citi maintains a Compliance Risk Management Framework designed to prevent, detect, and correct failures in the execution of a lending program that could lead to potentially discriminatory or otherwise unfair outcomes for its customers. Citi’s lending practices are subject to ongoing regulatory oversight by the Bank’s primary regulator, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (“OCC”) as well as the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau.

Citi dedicates considerable financial and human resources to meeting the homeownership needs of low- and moderate-income (LMI) people and communities, as well as communities of color. We have a dedicated Strategic Markets department to lead strategic initiatives and coordinate business units across the company to increase affordable and sustainable homeownership across all retail and third-party distribution channels.
