HISTORICAL COMMISSION – TREASURE PHILLY!

Shannon Garrison, Kristin Hankins, and Izzy Korostoff are working on expanding the Historical Commission's Treasure Philly! project. In 2022, The Department of Planning & Development received a grant of $250,000 from the William Penn Foundation to develop and pilot a historic resource survey program, now branded Treasure Philly! Since 2022, the Treasure Philly! team has been exploring ways to engage with populations and histories not currently reflected in the properties listed on the Philadelphia Register of Historic Places. Through the project, the Department of Planning and Development is expanding the traditional understanding of preservation to include a wider range of tools and more comprehensive understanding of cultural heritage. In fall of 2025, the Treasure Philly! team began documenting the cultural history of Frankford. The team has participated in numerous events in Frankford related to the neighborhood's history. Treasure Philly! Frankford is currently building on its 22 January 2026 meeting of historic Frankford churches and 27 February event exploring designations for historic Frankford churches by scheduling individual site visits with churches interested in moving forward with designation and/or programming. Gail McCormick of the Historical Society of Frankford and Kristin Hankins are working together on outreach. Several other Historical Commission staff members are participating in site visits and working with churches interested in designation. On 2 June 2026, Gail McCormick and Kristin Hankins met with St. Mark's Church, Frankford, to discuss potential programming and designation. On 3 June, Kristin Hankins participated in a Northeast 250: Threads of History workshop hosted by the Historical Society of Tacony and Tacony CDC. Northeast 250: Threads of History is an event series organized by Mural Arts Philadelphia's Tacony LAB Community Art Center and highlights the places and history found in Northeast Philadelphia alongside the many organizations that steward this history. Each event features an opportunity to learn about history while participating in community art making. Treasure Philly! is a Northeast 250: Threads of History project partner. On 7 June, Kristin Hankins participated in a Northeast 250: Threads of History workshop hosted by Trinity Church Oxford and the Daughters of the American Revolution: Flag House Chapter. On 16 June, Heather Hendrickson, intern Olivia Dec, and Kristin Hankins visited St. James Lutheran Church with Gail McCormick. The group will visit again in August to discuss designation in more detail. On 19 June, Josh Schroeder, Shannon Garrison, and Kristin Hankins engaged with members of the Second Baptist Church of Frankford during their Juneteenth Community Celebration. They worked with the church, the Historical Society of Frankford, and Frankford CDC to plan the event, which included historical and preservation activities to involve the congregation and community in the Philadelphia Register of Historic Places nomination process. They met with the planning team several times in early June; on 4 June, for example, Josh Schroeder, Gail McCormick, and Kristin Hankins visited the church to explore archival material, document the building, and finalize event logistics. On 28 June, Kristin Hankins participated in a Northeast 250: Threads of History workshop hosted by All Saints Episcopal Church.

The Preservation Alliance petitioned the Court of Common Pleas to reconsider the matter with the Preservation Alliance treated as an appellee; the Alliance did not participate in the first set of hearings. On 30 March 2026, the court granted the petition, vacating its order of 26 February 2026, granting the Alliance and civic association appellee status, and directing the parties to file new briefs.
